

Personality Survey:

Many career counselors and organizations use personality tests to find out more about a person's interests and aptitudes. This type of survey can be useful when brainstorming ideas for writing a personal statement or exploring careers, degree programs, and colleges that are right for you.

Take the personality survey mentioned in the directions below, and see what you discover about yourself!

DIRECTIONS:

Go to the following web page and take the FREE personality survey (it is the first test listed-the free RHETI Sampler):

http://www.enneagraminstitute.com/Tests\_Battery.asp

It should take you about 10 minutes or less to complete the survey. After you submit your answers, you will see your results. There are 9 main personality types, and you can read the short and long reports on the personality type(s) that best describe you. And, yes, it is possible to have several main personality types according to this survey!

This screen shot shows you a page from the Enneagram Institute where you will find the personality survey. The black arrow on the right side of the image points to the free test that you will take:

  - Independent Researchers Conclude First Validation Study of the Enneagram System
  - How to Begin Your Enneagram Exploration
    - If you are brand new to the Enneagram, see our suggestions on how to begin your exploration.
  - Which Riso-Hudson test is best for you?
    - Don Riso and Russ Hudson of The Enneagram Institute have produced several Enneagram-based personality tests for personal, group, and business use. Each of their tests is of different length, in a different format, and reveals different aspects of personality for confirming your type, as well as discovering more about yourself.
    - Each of the tests gives a different set of results for your further self-exploration for personal growth, relationships, and workplace applications. Each test is also priced differently, depending on the depth of the test and the amount of results or "reports" that you receive from them. There are graduated discounts on 11 or more purchases of all our tests.
